

South Quay Digital Screen

This outdoor digital advertising site is situated at one of the busiest junctions in Douglas, Isle of Man.

The digital screen is positioned on the Island Tyres & Autocare building, situated on South Quay.

The site can be seen from as far away as Station Hill, catching the eye of drivers and passengers on their work commute, after their weekly Tesco shop, or just out and about during the course of their day.

All advertising slots are 10 seconds in duration. The advertising loop will be capped at 3 minutes long, accommodating a maximum of 18 advertising slots.

This site is one of the most popular advertising locations on the Island, so sign up now to reserve your position!

On a 12-months contract, advertising rates start at just £400 month, and the adverts featured can be changed as often as you like at no additional charge. Full details are shown below.
